INCREASE OF BUYING POWER F. D. R. DESIRES

Explains Budget Balancing At Conference

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt indicated today his budget balancing studies are centered around his hopes for increasing the income of 30 to 40 million persons he said have no purchasing power now.

Shortly before meeting Secretary Morgenthau and Under-Secretary Magill on budget problems this evening, the president told his press conference that the proposed wages and hours and surplus crop control measures were aimed at boosting the ability of citizens to buy.

Mr. Roosevelt had no direct comment on speculation that the capital gains and undistributed surplus taxes would be revised, but said he noted that newspaper stories from Washington speculating on that made no reference to that portion of the population which has very little money to live on.

"Haves" All That Talk
And he was struck by the fact that the speculation was from the point of view of the people who have and not from the viewpoint of those who are substandard as far as living goes.

He called attention to a labor department study which he said showed a $2,500,000,000 decrease this year in national income—the income of the people—due to government action. A reduction of $1,500,000,000 was noted because the government paid out that much on the bonus last year and is not due.

PILOT EXECUTES GOOD LANDING IN CRIPPLED PLANE

Retractable Landing Gear Jammed; Ship Pancakes

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—An American Air Lines transport pilot successfully executed a belly landing at Newark, N. J. airport at 1 P. M. (C. S. T.) today after the retractable landing gear had jammed the line's offices announced.

The pilot cruised in with motors shut off and with one wing high to place the strain on the one side of the undercarriage where the jammed wheel hung.

Minor damage was done to the plane.

The plane carried seven passengers.

FEARED BAD CRASH

Newark, N. J., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Unable to lower its landing gear into position, an American Airlines transport plane from Chicago, circled Newark airport today while ground crews and municipal authorities made preparations for an emergency landing.

The ship had cruised over the airport for an hour at 12:45 P. M. C. S. T. airline officials said, in an effort to unlock the gear. One side worked properly, they added, but the other was jammed.

Airline spokesmen said they were uncertain of the number aboard the big airliner.

A police alarm brought fire equipment and emergency trucks to the field.

Chokes on Burr

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Carlos Chaney, 18, had his mouth open for a second while standing along the curb in front of his home.

But the second was just long enough for a wheel on a passing car to toss a cocklebur into his mouth.

Carlos, unable to tell others of his predicament, ran to a physician's office and had the burr removed from his throat.

Hallowe'en Pranksters Warned to Beware Dangers to Motorists

Ralph T. Hall of the local branch of the Chicago Motor club today issued a warning to Hallowe'en pranksters, calling attention to the dangers to automobile drivers through varied acts. Hallowe'en, with its hordes of masked children presents an added problem to motorists, he warned.

"Drivers should remember that false faces limit the children's field of vision and consequently motorists should be especially careful when they see masqueraders crossing streets," Mr. Hall added.

FARMERS SEE 'ALFALFA DAY' DEMONSTRATION

Phases of "Wonder Crop" Discussed By "Alfalfa Hutch"

Nearly 200 farmers from Lee and adjacent counties had assembled at the Dan Utz farm, about one mile east of Dixon along the Lincoln highway, early Friday to witness the Alfalfa Day demonstration sponsored by The Evening Telegraph, and a much larger crowd was anticipated later today for the formal program, scheduled to begin at 1 P. M.

The demonstration is in charge of Charles R. "Alfalfa Hutch" Hutcheson, recognized authority on alfalfa and editor of Modern Agriculture, published at Waterloo, Ia.

Preparation of the seed bed for alfalfa was to be demonstrated by Mr. Hutcheson this afternoon. This includes discing, spreading of the lime and firming of the soil in preparation for planting. Each step in the preparation of the seed bed was discussed by "Alfalfa" Hutch and he also was to give a talk on the handling of alfalfa.

E. W. "Farmer Rusk," well-known to rural radio listeners of Illinois, also was to speak.

Farm Equipment Exhibited

In connection with the demonstration are exhibits of tractors, plows, discs and other farm machinery, fertilizer, seed corn, etc. The exhibits were all in place at noon, and exhibitors were on hand to explain their equipment.

Plowing in preparation for the seed bed demonstration was started early today and farmers had an opportunity to see the different types of tractors and plows in actual demonstrations in the field.

The demonstration field is a level tract and recent rains left the soil in ideal condition for cultivation.

Among the visitors early today were a group of students from the agricultural classes of the Dixon high school.

Exhibitors of farm equipment at the demonstration field were the Allis-Chalmers line, shown by agencies from Dixon, Harmon and Ashton; the McCormick-Deering line, shown by the International Harvester Co. store of Dixon; the Thieman tractor and plow line, shown by the Garden Garage of Dixon; Firestone tires, exhibited by the Firestone One-Stop station of Dixon; Wybrand seed corn, shown by the H. F. Black farms of Walnut; Rhum's phosphate, and lime, the last named by Art Butler of Dixon.

Alfalfa Problems Solved

At the afternoon demonstration farmers were invited to bring their alfalfa problems to the attention of Mr. Hutcheson, who was prepared to answer questions concerning the preparation of seed bed, planting and harvesting of this "wonder crop."

Coffee, sandwiches and other refreshments were sold on the grounds by Mrs. Dan Utz, wife of the farmer who is host to the demonstration day crowd.

FRENCH FIRE ON NAZI AIRLINER NEAR HENDAYE

Second Incident Of This Nature In Fort-night

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Oct. 29.—(AP)—French anti-aircraft batteries fired six warning shots today at a German airliner which officers said flew over a forbidden zone on the Franco-Spanish frontier near Hendaye.

It was the second time in little more than two weeks that French border batteries have warned Deutsch Lufthansa's Stuttgart-Lisbon airliners to stay away from the forbidden zone.

Officers said four German planes of the same type cross the frontier near Hendaye each day but fly at great altitude.

ARMIES COMBAT FLOOD

Zaragoza, Spain, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Insurgent and government armies on the broad Aragon front quit fighting each other today to combat a common enemy—a flood that sheeted wide areas in the valley of the Ebro river and its tributaries.

The Gallego river, rushing down from the French frontier to join the Ebro at this insurgent base and old Aragon capital, was at its highest level in 20 years—21 feet above normal. The Ebro was 22 feet above normal. Heavy rains were responsible.

The Ebro flooded roads and railways in government territory near Huesca to the north, causing great damage. It filled trenches and drove the Valencia troops to higher ground.

Zaragoza Threatened

Zaragoza was threatened and forced to take flood precautions similar to those taken in America's Ohio valley when the spring floods come.

TWO PROBLEMS VEX DIPLOMATS

Germany's Colonial Demands, Also U. S. Leadership

London, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Two other major world problems—an old one and a new one—came to the forefront today as the weary nonintervention sub-committee tried once more to reach an agreement on the withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain.

Of no direct connection with the Spanish civil war but, like it, tangled in the maze of European affairs were:

Germany's often voiced demand for return of her old colonies now backed by the powerful voice of Premier Mussolini of Italy, and increasing indications that European powers were hoping for some form of leadership from the United States in the nine-power pact talks on the Chinese-Japanese war to start next Wednesday in Brussels.

The Spanish neutrality group was summoned for an afternoon meeting with brighter prospects of reaching some form of agreement—or at least avoiding collapse of the all but collapsed nonintervention system.

Eight of the sub-committee members were prepared to go ahead without Soviet Russia if Moscow persisted in her stand against granting of belligerent rights to the warring sides in Spain until the "bulk" of foreign soldiers had been evacuated.

Lloyd George in Attack

British Laborites and Liberals who had been virtually without voice in the neutrality deliberations applauded a bitter attack on His Majesty's government's policy on Spain by David Lloyd George, World War prime minister.

Lloyd George charged that Mussolini is pouring troops into Libya, interfering in Palestine, fortifying positions in the Red Sea, putting air and submarine bases in the Balearics and Canary Islands and placing German guns in the Straits of Gibraltar.

"It is in the interest of all that this work shall not be disturbed in any way, because I know very well the country and the people of Italy, and know they always are ready to exchange the spade for the rifle."

Sees War by 1940

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—H. G. Wells, noted English novelist, told interviewers today there was a "maximum danger of a major conflict in the future."

"I came to the conclusion several years ago," he said, "that probable armaments would not be set for a big war until 1940."

"I think there is a maximum danger of a major conflict. And, I believe it will be very hard for the United States to keep out of a major struggle."

Moron Reported Molesting Rural School Children in This Vicinity

Reported attempted operations of a supposed moron in the vicinity of at least two rural schools near Dixon, today brought warning from Sheriff Ward Miller to teachers, parents and students. The sheriff urged children to refuse automobile rides with strangers and teachers and parents were requested to impress upon the minds of children the danger of accepting advances of strangers.

The warnings were issued following receipts of complaints from two rural school districts, lodged by teachers who informed the sheriff that their students had reported advances being made the first of the week by a stranger, driving a grey sedan. In one instance, the stranger was said to have urged three small girls to accompany him in his car and direct him to Lowell park. In the second report, he was alleged to have implored one girl to accompany him on a pleasure ride.

In both instances the pupils notified their teachers who immediately conveyed the information to the sheriff's office. It was stated today that a strange man riding in a car answering the same description had been molesting girls of rural schools in Ogle county.

STATE RESTS IN CASE CHARGING MRS. ANNA HAHN

Trial May Reach Jury Within Next Week

Cincinnati, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The state rested today its murder-by-poison case against Anna Marie Hahn, charged with the death of 78-year-old Jacob Wagner.

Circumstances in the deaths of four other elderly men were admitted by Judge Charles S. Bell, as "corollary evidence."

Court adjourned until Saturday after Judge Bell denied a defense request that sessions be delayed until Monday to allow time to consider evidence.

Listed as the last in a parade of 95 state witnesses, Mrs. Katherine Keeler of Northwestern University's crime detection laboratory testified yesterday that Mrs. Hahn forged Wagner's name to a $1,000 check, wrote and signed his purported will in her own favor and inscribed for herself a full power-of-attorney.

"I haven't the slightest idea in the world what the defense will be," asserted Joseph H. Hoodin, chief of Mrs. Hahn's counsel, but indicated he might seek the aid of former Judge Arthur C. Fricke and William A. Thorndyke, veterans of many sensational murder trials.

He declined comment on whether Mrs. Hahn would testify but said he expected to summon only a few witnesses, indicating the trial now ending its third week would reach the jury within next week.

HOUSE MEMBERS DISAGREE OVER CROP CONTROL

Await Sub-Committee Reports Before Taking Action

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Members of the House agricultural committee disagreed today over making the proposed crop control program compulsory or voluntary.

They will not make a final choice until subcommittees have drafted all other details of a bill for presentation to the special session of Congress.

Rep. Coffee (D-Nebr.) was one of those expressing opposition to compulsory control.

He suggested a dual price system that "would assure the farmer a fair price on the domestic market and allow him to compete in the world markets with surpluses."

Rep. Cummings (D-Colo.) said control would be necessary "if we are going to guarantee to make agriculture profitable. We just can't throw the gates wide open without having control over production."

Rep. Flannagan (D-Va.) declared he favored production control or market control.

JUDGE EXHORTS APOLOGY FROM O'HARA PAPER

Providence, R. I., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Providence Star Tribune, published by Walter E. O'Hara, race track head, today apologized in print to Judge Charles A. Walsh for an article which the judge said was not a "statement of fact."

The "explanation" of the two-day old article, concerning why the paper was in contempt, was the comment in the "Battle of Narragansett."

Set for early action, however, was a promised federal investigation of alleged political donations by the Narragansett Racing association, and the arraignment of O'Hara on a criminal libel charge brought by Gov. Robert E. Quinn.

The explanation published by the Star Tribune and signed by O'Hara, said in part:

"The story was based on an assumption of facts which were later found to be erroneous and killed in its later editions."

"Judge Walsh was not interviewed by this newspaper as it might appear from the item in question."

EXTENSIVE ROCK RIVER SEINING IS PROJECTED

Carp, Buffalo Fish To Be Removed By Local Crews

The most extensive program for the removal of carp and buffalo, which are classified as rough fish from Rock river in many years is now under way and is to be greatly increased, Deputy Conservation Inspector Charles Duls has announced. For some time a large crew has been operating in the Nelson slough, removing many tons of rough fish and the program is to continue upstream to the dam at Dixon.

Several other seining crews will be operating both north and south of Dixon during the winter months, Inspector Duls stated. The area around the islands just west of the bridges is to be carefully seined and the program this winter calls for the removal of rough fish of all sizes, he stated. Additional crews will operate as long as the weather permits, east of Dixon to Oregon. The state department during the past week has issued several licenses to seiners to carry on this work.

It was announced that orders had been issued to these crews to remove carp and buffalo and any other rough fish of all sizes. Fish measuring 16 inches and under will be offered for sale to the public at the seiner's camp. The larger fish will be shipped to markets which have been established for their disposition.

The Thompson seining crew, now operating in the vicinity of Nelson reports having taken large numbers of wall-eyed pike in their nets this season, but these have been released back into the stream, together with all other varieties of game fish.

STORIES IN STAMPS

GEORGE WASHINGTON OF HAWAII

DREAMS of a great Hawaiian empire surged through the mind of Chief Kamehameha as he ascended his native throne in 1782. At that period the islands were divided into four separate kingdoms, each leaping at the throat of the other.

So Kamehameha promptly mapped his strategy. Equipping himself better than his foes, enlisting foreign and native aid, assembling vast stores of firearms, he took to his ships and earnest conquest. By 1795 he had succeeded in conquering all of the islands except Kauai and Niihau. The latter he won by cession in 1810.

And immediately, having effected an empire consolidation, he organized a government, checked oppression, moved to encourage industry, suppress crime. First king of all the Hawaiians, Kamehameha became in effect the George Washington of these islands.

By 1815 he had thwarted Russian designs on the islands and two years later had eliminated the scourge of Spanish pirates. Next he sought to introduce teachers of Christianity, but in this he failed. Until his death in 1819, Kamehameha steadily pushed Hawaii toward a new horizon.

His memory is perpetuated by the new Hawaiian territorial issue, portraying the statue of Kamehameha I.

Police Raid Union Office, Seize Men For Bomb Attacks

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—State's police raided headquarters of the Chicago Upholsters' Union, local No. 18, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, and seized several men for questioning. The union's files also were seized.

Shortly afterward, Police Sgt. Gus Bartels said Gus Novotny, 30, business agent for the union, confessed he had instigated six of 30 recent window-smashing and stench bomb attacks on non-union upholstering shops.

Bartels said Novotny insisted he hired men for the attacks on his vilion and declared his union knew nothing about it.

ABSOLVED FROM NEGLIGENCE

Superior, Wis.—(AP)—A coroner's jury absolved Austin L. Keeley, 30, of Waukegan, Ill., of criminal negligence in the automobile death of Rosella Handeland, 6. She was killed Monday near Hawthorne, Wis., when she alighted from a school bus. A reckless driving charge is still pending against Keeley in municipal court.

Quincy Woman In Linn County Jail For Blackmailing

Brookfield, Mo., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Velma Fleer, 30, of Quincy, Ill., was under six months sentence in the Linn county jail today for her alleged part in the blackmailing of Maurice (Beau) Brummall, Salisbury druggist. Circuit Judge Paul Van Osdel passed sentence yesterday.

W. E. Crowley, 30, also of Quincy, pleaded guilty of blackmail last March 10 and likewise was sentenced to six months in jail. Crowley was arrested at Clifton Hill, September 3, 1936, when he allegedly sought to collect $300 from Brummall.

Brummall told officers Crowley previously had demanded $5,000 on a threat to display a photograph of Brummall and Mrs. Fleer, purportedly taken in a hotel room at Columbia.

The cases were brought here on charge of venue.

GIVEN DEFAULT JUDGMENT

Quincy, Ill.—(AP)—A jury awarded Miss Pauline Wellman of Quincy a default judgment of $8,000 against J. E. Ryan of St. Augustine, Ill., as the result of an assault which she testified took place in an automobile January 19. She testified Ryan beat and choked her after she denied possessing a $50 bill which he claimed he had placed on a bar at a tavern they had visited.

QUINN INSISTS SHERIFF CAN'T APPREHEND HIM

Publisher Charged With Libel Free On $5000 Bail

Providence, R. I., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A warrant for the arrest of Governor Robert E. Quinn in a $500,000 libel suit by Walter E. O'Hara remains in the pocket of Sheriff Thomas Barry of Kent county as Quinn has insisted he could not be arrested as chief executive.

Meanwhile, on petition of public utilities commissioner Michael Deciantis, a responsible representative of O'Hara's Star-Tribune was summoned to appear before Superior Judge Charles A. Walsh to show cause why the paper should not be held in contempt of court.

Deciantis' petition was based, he said, on a paragraph in an extra edition of the paper which said Judge Walsh "was interviewed" and Deciantis "was politely urged to cool down in the interests of common decency and the sane administration of justice."

O'Hara remained free in $5,000 bail awaiting arraignment on a grand jury indictment returned yesterday charging him with libeling the governor in an extra edition of the Star-Tribune calling him "a — — — liar."

A second criminal libel charge has been brought by William E. Beehan of Larchmont, N. Y., general counsel for the Outdoor Advertising Company, who charged O'Hara called him "a briber." Beehan also sought $100,000 in a civil action.

Tuesday night Governor Quinn had O'Hara arrested on a civil libel suit for $500,000, basing his action on a radio speech O'Hara delivered a few hours earlier. The turfman countered yesterday with a similar libel suit for the same amount against the governor. This was the suit on which Quinn refused to accept a warrant for his arrest.

Stands By Second Wife As Officials Probe Other Deaths

Portland, Ore., Oct. 28.—(AP)—George Ledford stood staunchly by his second wife while authorities investigated the deaths of her two step-daughters and her first husband.

The 35-year-old woman was jailed on a charge of poisoning 13-year-old Ruth Ledford. District Attorney David Bennett said Ruth's 15-year-old sister, Dorothy, also died of poison and traces of poison were found in the vital organs of Mrs. Ledford's first husband, John Matson.

Mrs. Ledford protested her innocence.

The girls' deaths last month originally were attributed to eating berries covered with poison spray. District Attorney Bennett said Mrs. Ledford was the beneficiary of insurance policies on her stepdaughters' lives.

ous parts of the country are in for some embarrassing disclosures when the Senate Civil Liberties Investigating Committee resumes its public hearings shortly.

The committee, headed by dynamic Senator Bob La Follette, has been secretly probing several anti-union movements and is loaded to the muzzle with fireworks. One of its prize pieces of documentary evidence is a photostatic copy of a secret agreement among a number of southern California corporations to defy the Wagner Labor Disputes Act.

Under the terms of the agreement the firms not only fixed a common scale of wages, but agreed not to deal with or recognize "any labor organization". Members agreed to impose penalties up to $10,000 for violation of this secret anti-union alliance.

Secret Terms

Here are some of the terms of this extraordinary agreement:

2. During the period of this agreement, the company shall not enter into any agreement either oral, written or implied with any labor organization.

3. The company shall deal directly with its own employees and shall not recognize or deal with any person or persons not on the company payroll in matters of individual or collective bargaining.

5. Data on wages, hours and conditions of employment shall be accessible to and furnished to the Association on request.

8. In the event that the company shall violate or terminate this agreement before June 1, 1938, the company agrees to immediately make a contribution of two percent of its total sales for the preceding twelve months, minimum $10,000, to the Association in consideration thereof.

9. In consideration for the Company maintaining proper wages, hours, and conditions of employment as determined by the Association, the Association shall recommend the company to the several members of the Association and to the community in general.

Merry-Go-Round

A long-smouldering row over the management of the Library of Congress by Herbert Putnam, 78-year-old librarian, is slated to break out in Congress next month because of his peremptory dismissal recently of Dr. George J. Schultz, head of the Legislative Reference Service. Schultz was

Smith" is a Negro in charge of WPA's Negro division. . . . Attempting to address a large fair crowd in Los Angeles County recently, Senator William Gibbs McAdoo was so vigorously booed that he had difficulty making himself heard. The lanky Californian is under attack in the southern part of the State because of his refusal to back the reappointment of a popular federal district attorney. When Big Jim Farley spoke in Los Angeles last week he made no mention of McAdoo. . . . Evangelical Missionary Rally
The annual missionary group rally was held at the Evangelical church on Wednesday with a morning and afternoon session. This group comprises the missionary societies of Ashton, Brookville, Dixon, Eldena, Kingdom and Polo churches.

Mrs. W. H. Yenerich, the president of the Ashton W. M. S., gave a word of welcome to the guests who had gathered for this all day meeting, and the morning devotions were in charge of Miss Rilla Webster, of the Dixon society. Three members of the Eldena society rendered a beautiful vocal trio.

The guest speaker for the day was Rev. J. J. Arnold, a missionary from Nigeria, French West Africa, who with his wife are now on furlough. Rev. Arnold spoke briefly of their location and their work among the natives of Wurkum Land.

A timely and interesting temperance talk was given by Rev. George Walter who represents the Anti-Saloon League in the Illinois conference. Rev. Walter told many shocking things concerning the liquor question, and displayed some striking placards.

Mrs. Fred G. Schafer of Ashton, the chairman of the group and presiding officer for the day announced the members of the nominating committee, with Mrs. John Yeakel of Polo as chairman. The morning session closed with Rev. P. O. Bailey pronouncing the benediction.

At noon a picnic dinner was enjoyed in the church basement, where long tables were spread, each graced with a beautiful centerpiece, a pumpkin basket filled with fruit and surrounded by oak leaves. The noon hour was spent in renewing acquaintances and visiting with old friends.

Promptly at 1:30 the afternoon session opened with a cornet duet by Richard Bailey and Nevin Kendall, accompanied at the piano by Wallace Yenerich. Mrs. Leonard Stevens of the Kingdom church conducted the afternoon devotions, which were followed by a very touching temperance reading given by Mrs. Harry Simpson of Brookville.

A short business session was held during which the minutes of last year's meeting were read and the

Where to Go This Coming Week-End

Secretary Dixon Branch Chicago Motor Club

Illinois vs. Michigan! Homecoming festivities! Climax of the 1937 schedule which was dedicated to honor Coach Bob Zuppke's 25th anniversary as football mentor at Illinois. With thousands of motorists focusing their thoughts on football these fall days, the Chicago Motor club suggests that they combine sight-seeing with their gridiron trips and as an unparalleled opportunity to combine both, suggests Champaign-Urbana, home of the University of Illinois.

The university's beautiful campus modern buildings, fascinating beauty spots, make it the mecca for thousands of visitors annually. Included in the interesting points on the campus are University hall, Library, Law building, the Alma Mater group, Rock Garden, and the Morrow plots, the latter the oldest experimental plots in the United States. The scene of Champaign-Urbana itself is famous for the many historic characters of the state who have lived and worked there. A tablet at the county court house marks the scene of the campaign address outlining Lincoln's slavery stand, and in Carle park there is an enormous bronze statue of the famous president created by Lorado Taft.

The annual football classic will be presented at 2 o'clock Saturday report of the nominating committee given. Mrs. S. C. Boswell of Polo is the chairman for the coming year, with Mrs. Leonard Stevens of the Kingdom church as secretary.

The rest of the afternoon was given over to Rev. Arnold, who gave another interesting message and displayed many articles used by the African natives in their work and some curios which he brought with him. He told many things concerning the customs of the African people and urged that the missionary women continue to remember these people in their prayers.

About 140 were present at this meeting and the offering amounted to $26.53. Mrs. Ross Hostetter of the Polo society extended an invitation for the group meeting next year, which was accepted. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. H. Walters of the Brookville church and the day will be long remembered as one very profitably spent.

afternoon, October 30, in Memorial stadium. The Fighting Illini will line up for their annual pigskin argument with the traditional Homecoming opponent, the Michigan Wolverine. Although both teams are definitely out of the race for the Western conference football title, a real battle and plenty of football can be expected by all who head south for the weekend.

Between halves of the main attraction there will be presented a program in honor of Zuppke. "Zupp," as he is more affectionately called, is the grand old man of the Big Ten conference. In 1913 he took over the guidance of Illinois football fortunes, and one year later rewarded his followers with a Big Ten championship.

When the strain of another football season has passed, the man whose character, personality, and ability has warranted an uninterrupted period of 25 years at Illinois, can be found pursuing his hobby—painting. In the last few years Zuppke has become an accomplished artist of note. However, on next Saturday afternoon in Memorial stadium you can safely wager that his thoughts will be far away from the easel and the palette. The reason will be, of course, the Maize and Blue of Michigan, fresh from their first conference win in two years.

Annually the Illinois-Michigan football spectacle develops into a display of gridiron fireworks. Michigan's "a punt, a pass, and a prayer" system, mixed with a dash of Illinois famous "razzle-dazzle," always results in a terrific and exciting struggle. This 1937 fracas promises to be equally as spectacular and will be well worth seeing. Aside from the football classic itself there is the Homecoming celebration. Fraternities, sororities, gayly decorated, parties galore, pep sessions, and the fine band of the Illini performing should make this weekend at Champaign a lively and exciting one.

If you're looking for a good place to eat in Champaign, try the "Prenn-on-Green," near the campus of the university. This eating place has all the gusto and informality of most college restaurants.

The simplest routing is to take U. S. 52 out of Dixon to junction with U. S. 51 through LaSalle to Bloomington. Then follow U. S. 150 from Bloomington to Champaign. This route is approximately 162 miles from Dixon.

OBSTACLES IN THE WAY OF BOYCOTT PLAN

One of the most entertaining bits of business this winter ought to be the attempt to persuade the American woman to stop wearing silk stockings in order that the villainous Japanese may be foiled of their designs on China.

From the shapely legs of American womanhood to the muddy battlefields of Shanghai may seem like a long jump. But there is a connection, spelled simply in the one word: boycott.

The argument runs something like this: Japan is making war on China in plain violation of all existing treaties. If one nation can treat another nation so, no nation is safe from the threat of force; America, accordingly, must do her part to restrain the Japanese.

But the Japanese don't restrain easily. They have, in fact, shrugged off all protests. And no American cares to see his country go to war to make the protests effective. There remains, then, only the boycott. If all lovers of peace and good-will will stop buying Japanese goods, the Japanese will see the error of their ways and the dove of peace will flutter once more over war-racked China.

Which brings us back to silk stockings.

Japan's principal export to this country is silk. If we are going to boycott Japan, we have got to stop buying silk. And if we are going to stop buying silk, we have somehow got to persuade the American woman to encase her nether limbs in something besides silk stockings—in lisle, in rayon, or perhaps in the plain old-time cotton article.

And that, when you stop to think about it, is going to be something of a job. Never has there been a country as leg-conscious as modern America. The American woman, you might say, struggled for generations to win recognition of her right to wear silk hose day in and day out, regardless of her station in life. Anyone who imagines that she is readily going to surrender that right, even for a noble and altruistic cause, may well have another guess coming.

All of which compels one to wonder just how effective these international boycotts—talked of so freely, these days—are ever going to be.

There seems to be a school of thought which would substitute the boycott for war, which would make of it a padded club by which an erring nation may be clubbed bloodlessly back into good behavior. On paper it is all very simple. In actual practice it may be quite different.

For we buy goods in international trade not because we admire the people who make them, but because we like to have the goods. It is going to take deep and strong emotion to make such boycotts successful. Is our desire to see Japan restrained, for instance, quite as sincere and universal as our wish to have the American woman continue to wear silk hose?

Maybe it is. If so—watch out, Japan. But then again, maybe it isn't.

SAVED FOR HISTORY

Highly deserving of consideration by the WPA authorities is the plea for a $174,401 allotment made by Gov. Bibb Graves of Alabama for the purpose of preserving the state papers of Jefferson Davis and the Southern Confederacy.

Montgomery, Ala., was once the capital of the confederacy. Under Governor Graves' plan, the state of Alabama would add some $177,000 to the projected WPA allotment to build an archives building in which the papers could be preserved. At present, many of the Confederacy's papers are kept in Montgomery along with Alabama's documents.

From many standpoints, the money asked by Governor Graves would be money well spent. The papers of Mr. Davis and the Confederacy are of tremendous historical value—value which increases as we get farther away from the tragic conflict. Providing a permanent library for them should be at least partly an obligation of the federal government.

CARICATURE OF ADMINISTRATION

There is a play back east called, I'd Rather Be Right. It ridicules the administration and its leading figures. A few years ago some one got up another satire called, Of Thee I Sing. When the first production was presented, no one, as far as we know, demanded that the thing should be stopped. But there are now many suggestions that a censorship be established on productions designed to caricature government officials.

It should be held in mind that an entertainment lampooning government officials is one thing, and one lampooning government itself is something else, although it might be difficult to discriminate between the two in some cases. An undiscerning person might be confused.

Much harm can be done by ridicule. Men have been driven out of office by it. We have yet to see what can be done to an office itself by ridiculing its incumbent, because there has not been enough of that thing in the dramatic field to justify a conclusion.

We are assured that these entertainments, such as I'd Rather Be Right, are mere caricatures of personalities. A caricature, as we understand the term, means a picture of an individual with certain characteristics grossly exaggerated. Cartoonists in general resort to caricature, in order to identify their subjects, with no thought of disrespect. Of recent presidents, Theodore Roosevelt in his spectacles and toothy smile; Taft was caricatured in his rotund physique; Wilson for his strong chin and eyeglasses; Harding for his stocky build and facial characteristics; Coolidge in his pinched face and F. D. R. in his grin.

But all that was in cartoon. When the producers wished to caricature Franklin D. Roosevelt's personality they engaged a song writer who could do a tap dance.

FIXING THE FIXER

Maj. Charles Spencer Hart, national grand exalted ruler of the lodge of Elks, seems to have hit upon an eminently sensible idea in calling on Elks throughout the nation to fight the "insidious evil" of traffic ticket fixing.

Major Hart is primarily interested in having his lodge do what it can to reduce the traffic accident toll. The anti-fixing campaign follows logically, since the common practice of fixing leads to disregard of traffic regulations—which, in turn, leads to accidents.

So Major Hart is urging every Elk in the United States to help make the fixing of traffic tickets an unpopular and unsportsmanlike practice. And the least any of us can do is wish him well in his campaign. The part that fixing plays in our traffic toll is too often overlooked. It is good to have attention focussed on it in this way.

PROF. J. D. FLINT

The interest in puzzles of the placement and rearrangement type evidenced by so many ardent Twizzlers brings forth this "little gem No. 4354X2" which, all joking aside, is an ingenious problem worthy of all interested fun-seekers. The problem is to place the numbered circles, squares and triangles in the 12 circles so that no two of the same figures and no two same numbers appear in any vertical or horizontal row or in either of the two diagonal rows. How about it? The numbered stars already placed are, of course, included.

SUPREME COURT RULES ON LOCAL ASSESSMENTS

Cities Not Treasurers Responsible For Funds Obtained

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28—(AP)—

An opinion on file in the Illinois Supreme Court today held that municipalities and not city treasurers are responsible for funds obtained from a special assessment levied for a specific local improvement.

Upsetting a second district Appellate court ruling, the high court held that money collected under such a special assessment constitutes a "public trust available for legal claims for materials and labor," and any part of those funds can "not be lawfully appropriated to other corporate purposes."

The question arose in a case from Bradley, Kankakee county, in which the Circuit court granted an order directing the village to pay a debt claimed by the contractor on a sewer project.

The Appellate court set aside the order, holding that the city treasurer should be held responsible since the master in chancery found that $25,095 of the special assessment funds had been diverted to other uses.

"A city is not liable generally for the unpaid balance due a contractor for a local improvement project, which is to be paid by special assessment," the Appellate court ruled.

The Supreme court held that the law doesn't permit the "eviction by a village of its debt, by either its willful or negligent failure to apply toward the discharge of the obligation funds collected by it for the specific purposes of meeting such demand," and that "to permit the village to say it no longer has the money or is unable to pay, would be to place municipalities in a position to defeat legal claims of contractors."

In the Bradley case, $315.991 was collected while the project cost $47,511.

The Supreme court opinion declared that the "withdrawn funds are treated as still in custody of the village for the purpose of paying the liability imposed by its contract for the improvement."

Vandenberg Says We Can't Survive Without Business

Grand Rapids, Mich. Oct. 28—(AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) told a joint meeting of luncheon and community clubs that if legitimate American business does not have a fair chance to profitably survive, none of us has a chance to survive.

In an address which criticized the New Deal's business policies, Senator Vandenberg asserted business "does not know what moment the government will enter into destructive commercial competition against it because the President himself, alone—can and does allocate gigantic relief funds to any socialistic purpose he sees fit."

Bridegroom Seized For Counterfeiting

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 28—(AP)—A bridegroom of a day, identifying himself as Harvey Mitchell, 33-year-old carpenter, was arrested at his home near here yesterday on a Federal counterfeiting charge.

Secret Service Agent Loren P. Jackson of Springfield, who made the arrest, said a number of fake $10 bills have appeared in circulation recently in southern Illinois and in St. Louis.

Mitchell waived preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner W. G. Burroughs at Edwardsville and was taken to Springfield in default of $2,000 bond to await action of the Federal grand jury.

MILK STANDARDS CAUSE VARIANCE OF DEPARTMENTS

Health Department Supervises Fixing Standards

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28—(AP)—Two department of state government—agriculture and health clashed Thursday over the fixing of standards of grade A milk.

C. W. Klassen, chief sanitary engineer, objected to a proposal of the agricultural department to assume jurisdiction under the agricultural standardization act, saying it would be contrary to best interests of health control.

The health department now supervises the fixing of standards by municipalities.

Klassen, who represented Dr. A. C. Baxter, acting health director, at a public hearing today, quoted from a telegram from Mayor Myron M. Lehman of Elgin, president of the Illinois Municipal league, saying:

"We object strenuously to any change in the laws relating to the present method of regulation. The department of public health is co-operating efficiently with local health departments."

Wants Supervision

Director J. H. Lloyd of agriculture said supervision by his department would protect the milk consuming public against milk adulterated and sold as grade A milk when the product "meets few if any of the recognized standards for grade A milk, and secondly, that supervision would protect legitimate grade A milk producers from unfair competition."

Klassen also charged that placing milk inspection duties in the division of foods and dairies would necessitate 100 new jobs. Klassen also contended that no uniform method of regulation is provided by the agriculture department. Some 16,000 farmers are providing milk under cities' regulations, Klassen said, asserting they should "not be forced to give up milk restrictions more strict than those proposed."

M. G. Van Buskirk of Peoria, secretary of the Illinois Dairy Producers association, and H. A. Ruehe, professor of dairy husbandry at the University of Illinois, spoke in favor of regulation by the agriculture department, while Paul Krueger of the Chicago board of public health and Paul Conville, health commissioner of Alton, argued against any change in regulations.

STUDYING TWINS

By Iago Galdston, M. D.

A hundred years ago Francis Galton, the founder of the modern science of eugenics, suggested in his book, "Inquiries into Human Faculty," that the scientific study of identical twins would prove of great value in weighing the relative influences of heredity and of environment on personality.

A hundred years later we find such a study made and reported—the first impressive study of its kind.

We are indebted for this to Prof.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A fascinating Albert Edward Wiggam, B.Sc. Author of pastime with "THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. It depends upon what sort of values you have in mind. For those immediate values that can be measured in money, the man is the more valuable, but for those social and spiritual, as well as economic, values that cannot be measured in money, such as rearing children, developing character, etc., the woman is the greater national asset. From the purely biological side the woman, as mother, is far more valuable because one man—speaking purely biologically—could be the father of many children but the woman can be the mother of only a few.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No doubt they do indicate certain broad characteristics although just how to interpret them is not as yet very clear. They are some-

Horatio H. Newman of Chicago university and to two other members of the faculty, F. N. Freeman and K. J. Holzinger, who collaborated with him.

The study concerned itself with a large number of twins and particularly with 19 pairs of identical twins who were separated in infancy and reared apart. These 19 pairs of identical twins therefore had a common heredity but separate and different environment.

The authors confess that their study has not by any means yielded a simple answer to the "nature-nurture problem." In other words, they do not find it possible to affirm that in the analysis of the personalities of the 19 pairs of identical twins, such and such items can be completely charged to the operations of heredity, and such and such to environment.

But, as we might have expected, the study reveals that identical

Inventory Your Personality

Knowledge of your Emotional and Personality traits is of great value to you. Dr. Wiggam has persuaded one of America's greatest Universities to permit the offer of the Personality Schedule used by it in determining personality strengths and weaknesses of college students. This Personality Schedule was prepared by one of America's leading psychologists. It contains 220 scientifically tested questions designed to measure your Personality. A method of self-grading is provided. Knowing your strengths and weaknesses equips you for self-improvement. This Personality Schedule is yours upon request accompanied by stamped (3c) self-addressed return envelope, together with 10c in coin to cover actual costs. Address Dr. Albert E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper.

what like one excellent test of character used by psychologists which is to ask you to look at a group of ink blots and say what they remind you of—the shape of a horse or rabbit or human head or what not.

twins are much more alike than non-identical twins. This likeness embraces physical constitution, intelligence endowments and educational achievements.

And yet the divergence between twins in "personality" is sometimes considerable. Handwriting, for example, was found to be very much of an individualistic factor among the identical twins. Only two of the 19 pairs reared apart had a handwriting difficult to tell apart.

This study solidly confirms the basic convictions of those who have concerned themselves with the relative influences of heredity and environment. The old definition of this relationship—that heredity determines the scope within which the influences of environment may operate—is shown to be valid.

As a by-product of this study

Your answers to this test reveal many things about your mind and character. So it is believed that the meaning of doodles may in time be unraveled.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. I think they do. On the physical side most of us think if we skate on thin ice or walk along a dangerous precipice or ride a fractious horse and tell ourselves the danger is merely in our imagination, it will lessen it. Sometimes, however, ignoring the danger is the one thing that makes it greater. On the spiritual side many parents think if they say, "Oh, our children are safe—they won't go wrong—they're too strong and dependable," that this eliminates the danger. But it makes it all the greater.

comes the reassurance that the superstition that identical twins split between them the endowments of a single individual is ill founded. Identical twins were found to be normal in intelligence and educational attainment. They are neither superior nor inferior to people in general.

the same day as the marriage. Shanahan died 13 days later. The cousins, the Misses Margaret and Mary Flynn, charged Miss Troesch conspired to gain control of the estate and their witnesses testified Shanahan was incompetent the day of the marriage.

Dr. Sawyer said he offered Shanahan congratulations October 5 when the bedridden former speaker of the state house of representatives told him he had been married the day before.

"I think it is all for the best," Shanahan told him, the doctor testified.

Shanahan was in good mental condition, the doctor continued, about the time of the marriage. He said that during the October 6 visit the patient "seemed bright, intelligent and coherent."

The last time he had any intelligent conversation with Shanahan was four days before his death, Dr. Sawyer testified. Shanahan, he said, was in a complete coma just before his death.

Explaining why he would not say any true dementia had marked the legislator's illness, Dr. Sawyer said Shanahan was suffering from hardening of the arteries and the "blood supply was reduced, causing temporary mental lapses and as the blood was replenished there would be a rally."

Dr. Sawyer added he visited Shanahan with Dr. Victor Gonda on October 5 and that the patient answered Dr. Gonda's questions correctly.

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Johnny Gilbert, the jockey, has bet $1,000 on Pety Sarron against Henry Armstrong tonight at odds of 5 to 2. . . . Not only are both Syrians, but Sarron is the god-father of Johnny's boy. . . . Sailing yesterday for three weeks in England and Europe, Eddie Brannick, secretary of the Giants, was asked if he intended visiting Italy. . . . "Naw," retorted Mr. Brannick, emphatically and ungrammatically. "I've seen enough of them DiMaggios already." . . . You said it, Butch. . . . Usually reliable sources swear that the night before he kayaked Al Ettore in Philly, Tony Galento made away with 24 hot dogs, six shots of booze and topped it all off with a dozen beers. . . . And yet some people wonder why they call him "wot-man!"

Danny London, Brooklyn featherweight, who fights Leo Rodak in Chicago November 8, was born deaf and dumb. . . . In a fight one night, some guy hit Danny a terrific smack behind the ear. . . . Now he can hear and is learning to talk. . . . It's the truth. . . . (Danny is the only fighter to knock out Harry Jeffra, the bantamweight champ). . . . Last Saturday was the 23rd birthday of a "Bruiser" Kinard, Mississippi's All-America tackle candidate. . . . So he celebrated by kicking off to Coachita, following the boot down the field and over the goal line and falling on the free ball for a touchdown. . . . Then he kicked the extra point. . . . Old timers say only one other guy ever did that. . . . Oddly enough it was Homer Hazel, All-America back at Rutgers in 1923 and later coach at Mississippi.

Talk about versatile fellows, how about Bronko Nagurski? . . . Sunday afternoon Bronko will play with the Chicago Bears against the New York Giants in what virtually amounts to a World Series football game. . . . Then he'll get outside a few steaks and next Wednesday night will defend his "world's heavy wrestling title" against Chief Little Wolf at the hippodrome. . . . The following Sunday he'll be hitting the line again.

BELOIT GRIDMEN
EMBARK FOR COE

Wisconsin School Is After Second Midwest Win
Twenty Beloit college gridmen embarked for Cedar Rapids where on Saturday they will seek their second straight Midwest victory against a strong Coe college team. The Gold will stay at Clinton, Ia. Friday night, and continue their journey to the Kohawk school on Saturday morning.

Coach Butler has made a slight change in his line in an attempt to give it the necessary reinforcements for Coe's strong running attack. Loyl Plinske, hard smashing fullback has been shifted to a guard post, a position he should well be able to fill. Plinske, being a very capable defensive player, should do much to bolster the weak Gold line. Bob Morgan, who played in the Knox game with a broken toe, will alternate with Plinske at this post. . . . Anderson will see service at the other guard station.

Brown, lanky senior end who scored all the Beloit points against Knox, will be at right end and either Zimonick or Campbell will be at right end and either Zimonick or Campbell will be at the other flanking post. Campbell suffered a broken nose in the homecoming fray, but is ready for action against the Kohawks. Zimonick, who remained idle last week due to injuries, has been practicing with the squad all week and no doubt will see considerable service. . . . Red Meyer and either Doug Cox or Bruce Duncan will work at the tackle positions. Paul Mitzer, stalwart of the Beloit line last week, will master the center duties.

Bruno Virgili, ace passer for the Goldenmen will be at quarterback, while Bob Gates will take over the full back post. Dwight Hill and Bill Day will undoubtedly work the halfback positions, although the latter may cede his work to Glen Johnson due to a back injury received early this week.

Coe, boasting of a huge line and strong running attack will be after their first Midwest victory, having been turned back by Carleton and Cornell. Beloit will rely on an aerial attack to bring them their second circuit win.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 29.—It's the Illinois Homecoming with Michigan as the foe and what better combination could the most exciting follower of King Football demand?

Wolverines and Illini, behind whom stretches a historic vista of spirited and colorful rivalry, will battle again before a crowd that will range from 20,000 to 30,000, depending upon whether the skies smile on Saturday.

The growing conviction that this will be one of the best games of the season and the fact that it is the last opportunity for the home folks to see the Illini until they close against Chicago Nov. 20 here, are expected to bring many last-minute patrons.

In a simple, brief but impressive ceremony, the Illini between halves will honor their famous coach, Bob Zuppke, in honor of his 25th anniversary as overlord of the Illinois gridiron.

As a setting there will be the pageantry for which Homecoming is renowned, with the Illinois band of 180 pieces appearing in new music, formations and songs and football court of honor, ten comely young women, representing the members of the Big Ten conference.

Campus and cities are gay with the Maize and Blue of Michigan and the Orange and Blue of Illinois. Fraternity, sorority and other organized houses are adorned with elaborate decorations, many of them choosing as their motif the quarter of a century record of Coach Zuppke.

All reports from Ann Arbor are to the effect that the Wolverines will be an inspired eleven when they run out on the stadium field. They are eager to beat the Illini after losing three close games to them in the last three years. Should Illinois repulse the invaders they will step into a niche occupied solely by Minnesota at present as the only Big Ten team in history

Newly-Organized
Dixon High Band
To Play At Game

Dixon high school's band will make its debut tomorrow on the Reynolds football field when Rochelle tangles with the Purple clad locals.

This has been a long-awaited event in Dixon high circles and it is hoped that a large turnout of fans will get behind the band and the team for tomorrow's game. The band will march between halves and execute maneuvers which will prove that Dixon is not the only town without a band at its football games.

Orville Westmore has reportedly done a fine job in molding this fine organization. Coach C. B. Lindell said today his Mighty Men have been somewhat hit by injuries this week. Red Ellis and Arnold Salzman are both nursing bad knees. As Arnie is an end and Rochelle is known to feature end runs in its attack, these reports are not cheering.

which has defeated Michigan four years in a row.

Identical Lineup
The Illinois lineup is identical with the one which Zuppke started against Indiana and Notre Dame with the exception of left halfback and right tackle. Capt. Lowell Spurgeon, gallant and capable leader, who seemed destined by his early performances to rank among the greatest backs of the nation, will be only a spectator. The recurrence of an ankle injury in his sophomore year, forced his permanent withdrawal last week.

In his place stocky Jack Berner, senior from Morris, Ill., will be acting captain and direct the team from quarterback and do the punting. Berner, who played tackle for the past two seasons, was shifted to quarterback this fall.

The return of Jay Wardley, best thrower, who had been crippled all season, helps to patch the backfield. Wardley probably will appear at left halfback, Spurgeon's old post, with Kenn Zimmerman as his alternate. Zimmerman, who won his letter last fall as a sub fullback, has been steadily improving as a ball-carrier.

At right tackle Albert (Swede) Lundberg, 215-pound sophomore who stands 6 feet 4 inches, probably will replace Tiny Cramer, another sophomore. Cramer was forced to miss practice all last week, which brought the opportunity to Lundberg.

The "B" teams of Notre Dame and Illinois will play a football game at 10 o'clock Saturday morning on the southeast practice field at the stadium, for which admission is free.

After you have used a chamois skin for cleaning windows or washing the car rinse it out three times, shake it well and hang it up to dry. Pull and shake it several times while it is drying. (That will keep it soft.) Chamois should be dried slowly—never directly in the sun or over heat.

Grate raw carrots and use them with prunes in gelatin salads. The salad may then be served as a separate course or with roast fowl, fish or meat.

Morrison Reaches For Rock River Valley Grid
Championship Tonight

Dixon At Home To Dangerous Rochelle Eleven

Morrison high school reaches for its first Rock River Valley conference football championship tonight.

The fighting band of Black warriors from the Whiteside county capital have not lost a game since their opening non-conference tilt with Sterling Community high, and in spite of disastrous injuries will be protecting their unsullied conference record of three victories against the dangerous Amboy Scarelets on Morrison's field before what is expected to be the largest football crowd ever seen at Morrison.

A defeat for Morrison will not remove them from the lead but they may be forced to share it with some other conference team, probably Rock Falls, should the x-champions defeat Mt. Morris tonight to stay in the running. Oregon journeyed to Polo for a game this afternoon in which Polo's highly-improved Apostles were favored to win their second conference encounter. Polo has Morrison to play yet next week before ending its season and Morrison to get at least a tie for the title must win one of its two remaining games. The Hub City crew and fans figure on winning both of them however.

Dixon Poised for Rochelle
In the North Central conference. Dixon's juggernaut is poised for an encounter with Rochelle which might easily prove a boomerang to Dixon if over-confidence has entered the heads of the Purple. Rochelle has been known too often to upset the giants of the conference.

This year, Sterling Township was the victim by a 12 to 7 count. Dixon will be protecting its undefeated conference record here tomorrow. DeKalb hopes to stay in the running against Belvidere tonight. Should Dixon be upset DeKalb will bounce back into a share of first place. Mendota's surprisingly strong team takes on a non-conference rival in Princeton which is much stronger than last year. Sterling, making ready for its all-important and long-awaited battle with its old rival, Dixon, will be idle this week to rest up for the ordeal, Saturday, Nov. 6.

DOPESTER SAYS
HOOSIERS WILL BEAT NEBRASKA

Calls It His "Long Shot Special" Of Weekend Picks

By HERBERT W. BARKER
New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Unlike that old die-caster, Julius Caesar, this football corner recklessly fails to come to even the customary one-second pause before crossing the weekly prognosticating Rubicon: Minnesota-Notre Dame: The Irish looked a trifle more Rockne-ish in that thrilling fourth-quarter rally against Navy but this is a Gopher of another color. The choice is Minnesota.

Yale-Dartmouth: Both undefeated, both untied but somehow the edge-spelled C-I-I-n-t F-r-a-n-k seems to lie with the Elis. The nod, not too emphatic, goes to Yale.

U. C. L. A.-California: When bigger and better 1937 upsets are recorded on the football seismograph, the Pacific Coast conference will manufacture them. California.

Pitt-Carnegie. You can't figure anybody but Pitt here but don't expect the Panthers to post any telephone numbers. They'll settle for any kind of a score providing it's a winning one.

Chooses Baylor
Baylor-Texas Christian: If our private lunch department were operating at normal speed we'd take the Christians. As it is well string along with undefeated and untied Baylor.

Princeton-Harvard: Harvard has no runner to compare with Princeton's Jack White, but the Crimson seems to be well enough equipped otherwise to outpoint the inexperienced Tigers.

Georgia Tech-Vanderbilt: The Engineers seem to have played their game against Duke nearly two weeks ago. It may be close but Vanderbilt's the choice.

Chicago-Ohio State: It's just a formality that they're in the same football league. Ohio State.

Penn-Navy: Sometime this season the well-mauled Quakers are going to upset the dope but hardly this week. Navy.

New York university-Colgate: Colgate's improving fast and gets this bailout over N. Y. U.'s crippled Violets.

Army-Virginia Military: The invaders from Lexington don't look powerful enough to cope with Army.

Long Shot Special
Nebraska-Indiana: The long shot special of the week—Indiana. (Please omit flowers).

Marquette-Sanata Clara: Marquette hasn't shown anything so far to indicate it can crack the Bronchos' winning streak. Santa Clara.

Illinois-Michigan: Where's that coin! Illinois.

Wisconsin-Northwestern: This is the Badgers' first serious Big Ten test and it looks like they'll flunk it. Northwestern.

Purdue-Iowa: The Bollermakers' luck can't be all bad. Purdue.

Southern Methodist-Texas: The coin says Southern Methodist.

Iowa State-Missouri: Looks like Missouri all the way.

Stanford-Oregon State: Stanford seems to have struck its stride and gets the call here.

MINNESOTA IS OUT TO AVENGE
OLD DEFEATS

Ramblers Have Won Twice, Third Game Was Tied

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Minnesota gets its chance tomorrow to even an old score with the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame.

The schools have met on the gridiron three times, with Notre Dame winning two and tying the third. At Memorial Stadium in Minneapolis tomorrow, Minnesota's Gophers, again on the gallop, will be favored to take their first victory from the Irish, and a record crowd of 64,000 spectators probably will be in the stands.

In 1925, Notre Dame came from behind to win 19 to 7 and the following year the Irish took a 20 to 7 decision. In 1927 the teams tied at 7-all, with Herb Joesting tossing the pass that enabled Minnesota to avert a third straight Irish whipping.

Minnesota, after two weeks rest, will be at peak condition for the battle. Notre Dame's probable starting lineup did not include Walter (Babe) Marshall, right guard, who suffered an ear injury against Navy and was advised not to play this week by the team physician.

Wildcats Suffer Blow
Northwestern, which goes to Madison, is favored to defeat the Wisconsin Badgers, now tied with Ohio State and Minnesota for the Big Ten lead, but the Wildcat chances of victory suffered a blow yesterday when it was learned Fred Vanzo, regular quarterback, will not play against the Harry Stuhldreher team. Vanzo injured a shoulder against Ohio State.

Michigan, which defeated Iowa last Saturday for the first Wolverine Big Ten victory since 1935, will be favored to defeat Illinois at Champaign. The game probably will be a thriller, however, with the Illini fighting to become the third team ever to defeat Michigan four years in a row. Minnesota and Michigan State have accomplished that defeat. Illinois has won its last three with Michigan, with each game decided by a point after touchdown or field goal.

Ohio State worked out today on Stagg field for its game with Chicago's Maroons, again in the underdog role. Iowa traveled to Lafayette for battle with the Purdue Boilermakers, with Indiana's Hoosiers going outside the conference to oppose Nebraska on the Cornhusker field.

Use a mild soap or soap powder for washing painted walls. Strong solutions are likely to remove the paint or streak the surface. Use quantities of clean water and plenty of clean cloths. Wash a small space at a time and then wipe it dry. If you use a prepared paint cleaner be sure to follow the directions.

Mix your spices to save time in cooking. Add four tablespoonful of cinnamon to two tablespoonful each of cloves, nutmeg, ginger and mace. Place them in a large salt shaker and keep them handy.

Santa Clara May Dampen Driscoll's Homecoming Party
Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Santa Clara Broncos may throw cold water on the "homecoming" party scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at Soldier Field.

The Broncos meet Marquette University of Milwaukee in an intersectional football battle which may draw 40,000 fans. The Marquette coach is Paddy Driscoll, former Chicago professional grid star and one-time Northwestern University football ace, who will be making his Chicago debut as a major college mentor.

CHARTER DAY IS CELEBRATED BY RURAL BANKERS

Luncheon at Rainbow Inn Marks Annual Event

Charter Day of the Rural Bankers Life Insurance Company, was celebrated yesterday noon by about 50 persons—officers and agents of the company and their wives—at a luncheon at Rainbow Inn.

H. G. Byers, treasurer of the company, was the toastmaster at the event and R. S. Kline, vice president, led the community singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sweet entertained with several specialty numbers and Harry Jones sang solo numbers and Harry Jones sang solo Meliott, L. P. Carlson and R. S. Kline.

J. W. Andrews of Sterling gave a brief talk in which he stressed the importance to the agent of planning each day's activities and the need for weekly reports.

Speaks on Simplicity
Rev. John W. Mullin of Western Springs gave an interesting address, the keynote of which was the value of simplicity in manner and speech. "Simplicity," he said, "has dignity and force and we often confuse complexity of speech with strength."

The work of the company was praised in a short talk by Mayor William V. Slothower.

Gifts to President
The company's new president, George Prescott, was presented a basket of flowers by his son Bud as a token of esteem from his immediate family. As a gift from the company, Vice President Kline announced the new president is given $201,000 in policies written by the agents in the recent campaign.

C. A. Meliott addressed the group with remarks on the progress of the company in the three years of its existence and declared that the new idea of dividing banking with insurance offers a pure protection life insurance and one which is gathering more friends daily.

President Prescott thanked the agents for their efforts in the recent drive and presented prize awards of easy chairs, tables and lamps to the most successful.

Prize Winners
First and second prizes were won by J. W. Andrews of Sterling, third prize by Rev. Mullin, fourth by Donald Sweet of East Moline, fifth by G. W. Talbot of Rock Island, sixth by E. C. Kennedy of Dixon and seventh by J. W. Barnacle of Downers Grove.

Jrof. Roscoe Eades, superintendent of schools at Sterling, spoke on the advantage of pure protection insurance over the old type of investment insurance.

A three-piece orchestra played during the luncheon and offered music for the program numbers. Those in the orchestra were Mrs. Dorothy Prescott Hardy, Ralph Grimes and Mr. Holloway.

With nearly 6 billion dollars being spent for liquor, what is there left for bread?

Fans See Snakes as Strippers Go

When the strip tease went out, Broadway and burlesque hunted a successor and found it in Zorita and her snake dance. With the above picture giving a hint why Zorita has been so successful. The snake is "Elmer," one of four Algerian blue bull snakes in Zorita's act, a dance based on a mythological tale of a warrior lover turned into a snake. Between acts charming Zorita takes her slithering charges out for strolls around town.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

BRETHREN CHURCH

William E. Thompson, Pastor

The revival at the Brethren church has been a real inspiration to the entire church and the many friends who have attended night after night. Last night another full house joined in the singing of great hymns and the pep choruses, "Give Me Oil In My Lamp," "Come Over On the Sunny Side," and "Fire Up." The choir deserves a great deal of credit for their faithful work. The delegation from Polo, with their pastor, who led in the first prayer, was much appreciated, and their ladies' trio which gave two numbers delighted the large audience. When the evangelist gave the invitation after an interesting sermon one Sunday school lad gave his heart to Christ.

There will be a service tonight at 7:45, and the young people will be special guests and will sit in a group.

Sunday will be a big day. Sunday school at 10 A. M. Our goal is 225. There will be classes for all ages.

Following Sunday school the evangelist will speak and following his address those ready to be received into the church will be baptized.

The closing service of this series will be Sunday night at 7:30. This service will climax the entire series and everyone is invited to attend.

Rev. Roy Stauffer of Atlanta, Ga., will preach here at the Christian church Sunday morning. He will come here from the International Convention at Columbus, Ohio, and he and his wife recently returned from an extended European trip.

DIXON METHODIST CHURCH
H. P. Buxton, Minister

"Translating Religious Vision Into Action" will be the sermon theme of H. P. Buxton, minister of the Dixon Methodist church, on Sunday morning at 10:45. Crawford Thomas will direct the senior choir in the anthem, "Hear My Prayer, O God" by Arcadet. The treble clef choir will also have a part in the service. The church Sunday school meets at 9:45 with classes for all age groups.

The High School League will meet at the church at 4:00 P. M. and then go to Lowell Park to the Vaile shelter for a winter roast and camp fire meeting. Sterling Schrock Jr. will be in charge of transportation. The newly elected president, Wanda Walder, will preside and the minister of the church will conduct the camp fire meeting.

All high school students not attending other young people's groups are invited.

The Young People's Forum will meet at the church at 6:45 on Sunday evening with L. W. Miller, county superintendent of schools, as speaker. Mr. Miller will show pictures of a recent trip to the Pacific northwest. This will be followed by a social hour with Rosemary Walker, chairman of the committee.

The finance committee of the church will meet in the pastor's study and church office on Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock. This will be followed by an official board meeting at 7:45 to which all the members of the board are cordially invited.

On Friday evening, November 5, the committee on religious education of the Joliet-Dixon district of which Rev. H. P. Buxton is the chairman, has planned for an afternoon and evening meeting at the church. Four leaders of religious education from Chicago will be present to present the work and lead the discussion. An important display of Sunday school material and books will be available to all.

People are attending this meeting from the western half of the district and the meeting is also open to any workers of religious education in the community. Supper reservations should be made with the church office on Thursday morning.

Choir Rehearsals
The Treble Clef choir of the Methodist church will meet for rehearsal at the church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The junior choir will meet at 1 P. M. for rehearsal.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. Herbert J. Doran, Pastor
Church school, 9:30 A. M.
Morning worship, 10:45.

The Forum will hold a Halloween party for all young people of the church and their guests this evening (Friday) at 623 E. Fellows St.

The devotional Club (high school young people) will hold their party at the same address tomorrow evening.

Be sure to tune in on Dr. Speer's broadcast over WENR tonight from 9:00 to 9:15.

The service of worship Sunday morning will center around the Centennial of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

This is the fifth Sunday of Loyalty month. Let us make it the largest in attendance.

The Auxiliary meeting will be postponed from Tuesday to Wednesday evening of this week, so as to permit all members to attend the church fellowship dinner. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Guy H. Merriam, 820 Brinton avenue.

Dr. Calvin H. Laufer, assistant editor of the New Presbyterian Hymnal, will be the speaker at the church fellowship dinner next Tuesday evening. He will be assisted by the choir and will present some of the new as well as some of the older great hymns of the church.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

IN THE UNITED STATES, MORE HOMES BURNED DOWN IN 1934 THAN WERE BUILT DURING THAT YEAR.

THE ANCIENT HISTORIAN, DIONYSIUS EXEGUUS, NEGLECTED TO INSERT A YEAR "ZERO" BETWEEN THE YEARS B.C. AND A.D.

THEREFORE, A CHILD BORN JANUARY 1, 2 B.C., WHO DIED JANUARY 1, 2 A.D., WAS ONLY THREE YEARS OLD.

THE snapping turtle is a water animal, but it is very much at home on land, where it explores areas adjoining the streams in which it lives. It is a swift walker and can strike with lightning-like rapidity.

GOOD THOUGHTS

We can better help another by fanning a glimmer of goodness than by censuring his faults.

—Elizabeth Gibson.

The truly humble Christian does not inquire into his neighbor's faults; he takes no pleasure in judging them; he is occupied wholly with his own.

—Athenasius.

Would you win all the world for Christ?

One way there is and only one—You must live Christ from day to day.

—John Oxenham.

The issue lies not in whether our neighbor is accepting or rejecting truth, but in whether we are accepting or rejecting the truth about him.

—Yoder.

We must waken to see each other in the light of Truth and Love, far above the evidence of the physical senses. We must persistently expect the expression of spiritual man in others, even as we are assiduously looking for this expression in ourselves.

—The Christian Science Journal.

Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, be strong, fear not. . . . And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads.

—Isaiah 35.

MINISTER FOUND NOT GUILTY OF ATTACK ON GIRL

Girl's Testimony Is Discounted By Danville Jury

Danville, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A jury today found the Rev. William C. McCullom, 48, innocent of charges that he attacked a 14-year-old girl.

The Vermillion county sheriff's office reported the verdict was reached by the jury "sometime during the night," and read in court at 7:30 this morning.

The case went to the jury at 6 o'clock last night after a one-day trial. Shortly after midnight the jurors sent word to the judge that they were deadlocked, tired and hungry and "we'd like to eat and go to bed."

But Judge Casper Platt replied: "You can't get a verdict while you're in bed. Continue your deliberations."

The first witness called by State's Attorney Oliver D. Mann after the jury was selected yesterday was Retha Miller, young member of Mr. McCullom's congregation, who testified the minister attacked her in the bedroom of his home July 25.

Later, the black-haired minister, who was suspended as pastor of the Four Square Gospel Tabernacle after the girl charged the attack on September 8, denied her accusations.

Attired in a pink silk dress and plaid woolen coat, the girl clenched her hands tightly as she stepped up to the witness stand. In answering questions of State's Attorney Mann, she said:

"He (McCullom) said, 'come on I won't hurt you,' and he pulled me into the kitchen. He tried to make me make love to him out there, but I wouldn't do it."

"He said, 'why?' It hurt me to think of what he was doing. I broke loose from him and ran to the front room, and tried to get out, but the door was locked."

"He caught me and pulled me back into the bedroom."

"Then what did you do?" Mann asked.

"He told me to go back in the living room, and I got up and walked back," she testified. "He still had the door locked. There was no way for me to get out. I could not get out no way. He followed me and unlocked the door and said: 'You can go now. They'll be coming in a few minutes.' Mrs. McCullom (she added in explanation) had taken the children for a ride."

The girl also testified that he threatened her with death if she told what happened.

The minister's entire testimony was a categorical denial of the girl's charges.

Mr. McCullom testified that Mr. and Mrs. Theodore White were at his home at the time the girl said the attack took place. When they left, he said, Retha and his son, Estil, 13, were in front of his home playing.

"I was still on the front porch when my wife and a group of children drove up," he said.

Britain In Accord With U. S. On Lower Barriers To Trade

London, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, told the House of Commons today "His Majesty's government are in full sympathy with the aims of the United States government in regard to trade barriers."

Answering the question of Rupert de La Bere, conservative, as to whether Britain would move to establish an "economic comradeship" between the two countries, the chancellor reiterated that "informal discussions" were continuing between Britain and the United States to find a basis for trade negotiations.

Mr. McCullom testified that Mr. and Mrs. Theodore White were at his home at the time the girl said the attack took place. When they left, he said, Retha and his son, Estil, 13, were in front of his home playing.

"I was still on the front porch when my wife and a group of children drove up," he said.

WHAT'S THAT AXIOM?

"IF YOU DON'T AT FIRST"—Toledo, O.—(AP)—A persevering thief stole the same car twice within an hour here, only to have an ever-more persevering deputy recover it both times.

The officer, Elmer Tift, said he noticed a 14-year-old boy driving the car apprehensively, but the boy parked the car and fled when he sought to question him.

Tift notified the owner, but while that individual was en route with his ignition keys, the car disappeared again. Tift, unaware of the second theft, saw the same boy driving a car, chased him, and discovered that it was the same machine. This time he run onto both thief and automobile.

Migratory Fowl Delayed by Lack Of Cold Weather

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Illinois natural history survey reported today that lack of freezing weather in the north delayed the southward movement of migratory waterfowl, on which the 30-day hunting season opens Monday.

Dr. T. H. Frison, chief of the survey, and Dr. R. E. Yeatter, game specialist, said a field trip up the Illinois river above Havana showed fewer ducks present than at the same time last year. They added, however, that a few days of freezing weather in the north would add to the fowl population.

The survey party reported that ducks were making good use of the Chautauqua lake migratory wild-fowl refuge, where several wood ducks, at one time almost extinct, were sighted.
